Population growth is the increase in population size over time. Students learn that population growth, while exponential at times, is controlled by limiting factors that determine the carry- ing capacity of the environment. Such limits to population growth may result from predator-prey interactions or overcrowding.

Demography is the study of human population dynamics. Population is shaped by a number of factors including fertility, mortality, migration and urbanization. Significant demographic changes have been shown in many parts of the world. The world population growth has been decelerating since 1970s. Fertility rates in more developed countries (MDCs) have been showing a declining ...
